

The Evolutionary Dynamics of Religion, Family Size and Child Success

Seminar Series

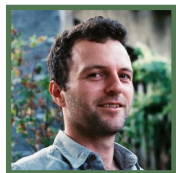

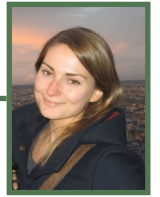

John Shaver, University of Otago, April 27, 4pm EST, "The evolutionary dynamics of religion, family size and child success: An introduction"

Rebecca Sear, London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, May 19, 2pm EST, "Family, fertility and child success: where does research on cooperative childcare go next?"

Robert Lynch, Pennsylvania State University, June 16, 4pm EST, "Religiosity increases the size and kin density of women's social networks in a country undergoing rapid market integration"

Laure Spake, University of Otago, July 15, 4pm EST, "Religion, fertility, and allomothering networks in the United States and United Kingdom"

Joseph Watts, University of Otago, August 17, 4pm EST, "Modelling secularization across nation states using phylogenetic causal path analysis"

Future speakers: Susan Schaffnit (PennState), Mary Shenk (PennState), Saman Naz (PennState), Elic Weitzel (UConn), Richard Sosis (UConn), and Anushé Hassan (LSHTM).

Zoom link: EvoDemReligion

Password: 246300

All talks will be recorded and made available via our website and YouTube Channel.

www.evolutionarydemographyofreligion.org

JOHN TEMPLETON
FOUNDATION

